

How did we come about?

Robertson Kitchens has been doing cooking demonstrations for our clients for years. We not only sell the appliances, we want to make sure you know how to use them. If it's cooking with gas or using a convection oven for the first time, at Robertson Kitchens we will make sure you are always "Cooking with Class".

After many requests from clients and friends to start a demo class in the showroom, we decided to offer classes where you could get more ideas and invite a few friends along the way.

We are real people who are moms, wives, and working women who not only enjoy life; we love to cook and entertain.

We will show you how to make meals for your family with ease and take the guesswork out of "What's for dinner tonight?"

Our meals are for beginner to seasoned cooks. We encourage interaction in our classes and promise you will have no tests at the end of the class. Just cook, eat, relax, and try something new.

Come alone or bring some friends. Be prepared to create a fun meal and meet new friends at every class.
